Thank you Joy for getting these done so quickly. Deborah can you add the paragraph to our letters. So we can get ours out. We have historically pdf'd them after signature and emailed them-and followed with a mail letter. I have all the contact information. Will forward the contact information.

Subject: NPL Letters for Delta Shipyard

Hello Chris:

Attached are the final NPL Letters which Carl signed. I suggest adjusting your state letters for his signature as well so they all align. I'm attaching what Bill Little will be mailing out today to the local elected officials.

Note: Carl will also be calling the state heads at LDEQ today.

P.S. FYI..... When I went to get Carl's signature, he had an additional direction/idea for these letters. Pam wanted the letter to provide a short paragraph as to what the plan would be for their area (we included this in the letters above). Carl's thought was he also wanted the letters to convey hope in the sense that yes now this site is on the NPL and will be cleaned up which historically has resulted in ~ "12%" rise in property value and will be able to lead to "revitalization." Carl did reluctantly signed the letters, so they could go out. However, I will be sending him the letters electronically so he can rewrite to express what he wanted. <-- then we can use it for the next NPL.

Also, Carl wanted to know if we were going to have a community meeting to kick off the NPL site. I said we could do that; however, I suggested that first the Project Managers and CIC should introduce themselves and meet with the local officials, do some community interviews, which will give us a better idea on how this community prefers community involvement, where they like to meet, their concerns. And then we could have a community meeting to explain how the entire process works.
